

Homer Shelton

Kills Chandley

The annals of Madison county have been stained by the blood of another one of its citizens. Floyd Chandley, son of Howard Chandley of Shelton Laurel, was shot and killed by Homer Shelton Thursday afternoon. Homer Shelton is a son of Frank Shelton. Shelton and Chandley are both young men. Both lived in the Carmel section.

Cause for the shooting could not be learned. It is said that Shelton had been drinking some that day. Information is to the effect that Chandley had bought a lunch in the store, walked out to a log and was eating when Shelton walked up to him and began shooting at him without a word. No arrests have been made. The sheriff has gone to the scene of the shooting. Search for Shelton has revealed the fact that he has skipped to Tennessee, or to other parts unknown.
